

EXTENSION RECRUITMENT POSTER

Study Title: “Reducing Burnout and Caregiving Stress Among Interdisciplinary Staff in Long Term Care” (RS2020-IG42) (Phase 3 of the Long-Term Care Research Team’s Project)

Principal Investigator: Joseph Puyat,
Scientist, Centre for Health Evaluation and Outcome Sciences, PHCRI
Assistant Professor, School of Population and Public Health, UBC
Phone: (604)682-2344 extension 63578
jpuyat@cheos.ubc.ca

Co-Investigators: Karen Pott, PHC Occupational Therapist/Team Leader, Kit Chan, PHC Dietitian, Chris Bernard, PHC Spiritual Health Practitioner, Anne Leclerc, PHC Physical Therapist, Research Coordinator, Annes Song, RN, Research Assistant, Paddy Rodney, RN, Associate Professor Emeritus, School of Nursing, UBC

- Are you working in a clinical role in one of the five PHC LTC sites?
- Do you want to learn about SUPPORTIVE STRATEGIES to help reduce your stress working in LTC?
- Do you want to participate in two short questionnaires?

Our research team has listened carefully to your input in Phases 1 and 2 and has prepared supportive learning modules for you. As confirmed by the PHC leadership, you will receive one-hour of paid time for completing the Learning Hub modules. A research appreciation gift of $30. will be provided following completion of two short questionnaires.

New Deadline: Recruiting until March 31st, 2022

To participate, please click this link: <https://bit.ly/consentLTCHOPE>

For more information, please contact:

Ms. Cindy Choi, Research Assistant cchoi@cheos.ubc.ca or Dr. Joseph Puyat, Principal Investigator

Thank you from the PHC LTC Interdisciplinary Research Team

Karen

Kit

Chris

Annes

Joseph

Anne

Paddy

For background information, please visit our website at: <https://professionalpractice.providencehealthcare.org/ltc-team-support>